1. Knowledge and understanding Graduates have demonstrated knowledge and understanding in a field of study that builds upon and exceeds their secondary education, and is typically at a level that, whilst supported by advanced textbooks, includes some aspects that will be informed by knowledge of the forefront of their field of study.	1.1 Familiarity with theories of multilingualism, paying particular attention to developments in the fields of psycholinguistics and sociolinguistics. 1.2 The ability to make connections between theory/analysis and empiricism in the field of linguistics. 1.3 Familiarity with the latest developments in one specialized field with regard to multilingualism, chosen from the fields of psycholinguistics, neurolinguistics, sociolinguistics or educational science. 1.4 Knowledge of the research methods in the fields of sociolinguistics, neurolinguistics or psycholinguistics. 1.5 The ability to independently develop new ideas for research in the field of multilingualism.
2. Applying knowledge and understanding Graduates can apply their knowledge and understanding in a manner that indicates a professional approach to their work or vocation, and have competences typically demonstrated through devising and sustaining arguments and solving problems within their field of study.	2.1 The ability to combine information from different sources and subdisciplines and distil relevant problems and questions in the field of linguistics from this information. 2.2 The ability to identify social issues/problems, especially in relation to politics, teaching/language teaching and healthcare, and to generate hypotheses and methods for research based on this.

	2.3 The ability to conduct independent research in one of the subdisciplines of linguistics.
3. Making judgements Graduates have the ability to gather and interpret relevant data (usually within their field of study) to inform judgements that include reflection on relevant social, academic or ethical aspects.	3.1 The ability to understand multiple perspectives of a certain linguistic phenomenon and to compare these perspectives with each other. 3.2 A demonstrable understanding of the nature and function of linguistics research and of the relationship between the various subdisciplines (especially sociolinguistics / neurolinguistics / psycholinguistics in relation to theoretical linguistics). 3.3 The ability to evaluate the soundness of linguistics research in terms of the statistics and methodology used.
4. Communication Graduates can communicate information, ideas, problems and solutions to both specialist and non-specialist audiences.	4.1 The ability to report orally and in writing about ideas and research in the field of linguistics. 4.2 The ability to report on supervised research in the field of linguistics via the usual media (professional or academic journals, symposia, conferences), using appropriate audiovisual and IT aids.
5. Learning skills Graduates have developed those learning skills that are necessary for them to continue to undertake further study with a high degree of autonomy.	5.1 The ability to specialize further in a field of linguistics and navigate their way independently through the academic literature. 5.2 Having the necessary grounding to pursue a PhD programme in the field of linguistics in a broad sense.

See Appendix 1 for the degree programme's Matrix of realized learning outcomes / course units.

Article 3.3 – Language

1. The Master's track in European Linguistics is taught in English or Dutch. The Master's track in Neurolinguistics is taught in Dutch. The Master's tracks in Applied Linguistics and Multilingualism are taught in English.
2. Notwithstanding Article 3.3.1, one or more course units in the Master's track Neurolinguistics may be taught in English in line with the University of Groningen Code of Conduct: Languages Used in Teaching and Examinations.
3. Theses/final assignments for the Master's tracks in European Linguistics, Applied Linguistics and Multilingualism must be written in English. Students following the Master's track in European Linguistics within the framework of a Master of Arts in Teaching programme must follow an MA course unit in European Literature in their target language as their Interdisciplinary Seminar. These students, as well as students who would like to have a specific language predicate on their degree certificate, must complete all written assignments, presentations and the MA thesis in their target language if possible. Students of the Master's track Neurolinguistics may write their thesis in Dutch or English. A thesis/final assignment may only be written in a language other than Dutch or English if the Board of Examiners has given permission for this (see also Article 3.5).

Article 3.4 – Master's tracks

The degree programme has the following Master's tracks:

No.	Master's tracks
1	European Linguistics
2	Neurolinguistics
3	Applied Linguistics – TEFL
4	Multilingualism

Article 3.5 – Content of the curriculum

1. The degree programme comprises the following course units with the student workloads indicated:

Master's track European Linguistics

No.	Course unit	Student workload in ECTS
1	Phonology/Phonetics	10 ECTS
2	Interdisciplinary Seminar ¹	10 ECTS
3	Syntax/Semantics	10 ECTS
4	Essential Statistics	5 ECTS
5	Research Methodology Language Development	5 ECTS
6	Sociolinguistics	10 ECTS
7	MA Placement in European Linguistics	10 ECTS
8	MA Thesis in European Linguistics	20 ECTS

¹ Students must choose at least three courses from 1, 2, 3, 6 and 7 in addition to Essential Statistics, Research Methodology Language Development and the MA Thesis in European Linguistics. In consultation with the Board of Examiners, students may also follow a course unit from another MA degree programme instead of the Interdisciplinary Seminar in Linguistics. Students following the MA in European Linguistics within the framework of a Master of Arts in Teaching programme must follow an MA course unit in European Literature in their target language as their Interdisciplinary Seminar. These students, as well as students who would like to have a specific language predicate on their degree certificate, must complete the written assignments, presentations for at least two complete 10 ECTS courses and the MA thesis in their target language if possible (this is compulsory for the Master of Arts in Language Teaching, i.e., English, French, German and Spanish, as well as Italian and Swedish). In addition, students may replace the Interdisciplinary Seminar with an MA Placement in European Linguistics. Finally, students of a language that participates in the national Masterlanguage programme (German, French, Italian, Spanish, Dutch, English and the classics Greek and Latin) may follow courses from this programme as Interdisciplinary Seminars. All choices indicated above must be presented to the Board of Examiners for approval.

Master's track Neurolinguistics

No.	Course unit	Student workload in ECTS
1	Aphasiology (MA)	10 ECTS
2	Dyslexia (MA)	10 ECTS
3	Developmental Language Disorders (MA) ¹	10 ECTS
4	MA Placement in Neurolinguistics	10 ECTS
5	MA Thesis in Neurolinguistics	20 ECTS

Master's track Applied Linguistics – TEFL

No.	Course unit	Student workload in ECTS
1	Teaching Methodology & Second Language Development	10 ECTS
2	Theory of Second Language Development	10 ECTS

3	Essential Statistics	5 ECTS
4	Research Methodology Language Development	5 ECTS
5	Computer-Assisted Language Learning ¹	10 ECTS
6	MA Placement in Applied Linguistics/TEFL ¹	10 ECTS
7	MA Thesis in Applied Linguistics	20 ECTS

¹Students choose between course units 5 and 6 or choose a course unit from one of the other linguistic Master's programmes at the University of Groningen.

Master's track Multilingualism

No.	Course unit	Student workload in ECTS
1	Language Planning and Policy	5 ECTS
2	Minority Languages: The Case of Frisian	5 ECTS
3	Essential Statistics	5 ECTS
4	Sociolinguistics: The Multilingual Community	5 ECTS
5	Psycholinguistics: The Multilingual Mind	5 ECTS
6	The Multilingual School	5 ECTS
7	MA Thesis in Multilingualism	20 ECTS
8	Language and Cultural History ¹	10 ECTS
9	MA Placement in Multilingualism ¹	10 ECTS

¹Students choose between course units 8, 9 or choose a course unit from one of the other specializations within the Master's degree programme in Linguistics at the University of Groningen. In all other cases students must consult the Board of Examiners.

All course units are listed in the online course catalogue OCASYS.

2. The modes of instruction and assessment for the course units listed above are set out in the syllabus for each individual course unit and the assessment plan for the degree programme.

Section 4 Tests and examinations of the degree programme

Article 4.1 – Compulsory order

The examinations for the course units listed below may not be taken before the examinations for the associated course units have been passed:

Course unit
MA Thesis in European Linguistics	20 ECTS of the rest of programme
MA Thesis in Neurolinguistics	20 ECTS of the rest of programme
MA Thesis in Applied Linguistics	20 ECTS of the rest of programme
MA Thesis in Multilingualism	20 ECTS of the rest of programme

Section 5 Transitional and final provisions

Article 5.1 – Amendments

1. Any amendments to Part A of these Regulations will, after due consultation with and if necessary upon the approval of the Faculty Council, be confirmed by the Faculty Board in a separate decree.
2. Any amendments to Part B of these Regulations will, following a recommendation by and/or upon the approval of the Programme Committee and the Faculty Council, be confirmed by the Faculty Board in a separate decree.
3. Any amendments to these Regulations will not apply to the current academic year, unless it may reasonably be assumed that the amendment in question will not harm the interests of students.
4. In addition, an amendment may not influence any other decision concerning a student taken by the Board of Examiners under these Regulations to the disadvantage of students.

Article 5.2 – Publication

1. The Faculty Board will duly publish these Regulations, any rules and guidelines formulated by the Board of Examiners, and any amendments to these documents.
2. Copies of the documents referred to in Article 5.2.1 are available from the Faculty Office. These documents can also be found on the Faculty website via the ‘Student Portal’.

Article 5.3 – Date of commencement

These Regulations will take effect on 1 September 2018.

These Regulations were decreed by the Board of the Faculty of Arts on...and approved by the Faculty Council and the Programme Committee where required on.
