

Outline, conference June 2011

Deference and judicial review: a necessary step in the transformation of governance in Canada

Suzanne Comtois*

Outline

Introduction

- 1- Overview of the Canadian standard of review doctrine emphasizing deference
- 2- Deference in action: Implementing deference in the context of adjudication
- 3- The contribution of curial deference to the emergence of a new model of governance

Conclusion