

Instructions for Full paper presentations

The full paper sessions will contain the presentation of two papers, preferably with a closely related topic (as far as possible). In total we will have 1 ½ hrs. available. For each paper we plan to have a 25 maximum minutes presentation, followed by a short comment of 5 minutes of the other presenter in the session (maybe supported with at most three slides). Then, there is sufficient time (15 minutes) for further discussion guided by the chairman. This process is repeated for the other paper.

The chairman might conclude the session by some summarizing remarks, additional comments to the authors and points for further discussion and research.
