Contact details:

Full Name: Lummina Geertruida Horlings

First name: Ina

Surname: Horlings

Birth date: 12-12-1962

Affiliation: Director Urban and Regional Studies Institute;
Full Prof. Socio-Spatial Planning RUG (Aletta Jacobs chair)
Leader Expertise team 'Engaged Society'
Department Spatial Planning & Environment
University of Groningen, The Netherlands

Work address: Landleven 1, 9747AD, Groningen, The Netherlands

E-mail: l.g.horlings@rug.nl

Biography :

In have completed a an applied science study in land- and water management (HBO), obtained a master's degree in social (environmental) geography at the Radboud University in Nijmegen (RUN) and finalised a PhD in Policy Sciences at this University on the topic of collective sustainable behaviour of farmers. I worked at various academic and non-academic organisations, including the Ministry of Agriculture Nature & Fisheries (LNV), The Telos Centre of Sustainability in Tilburg, the School for City and Regional Planning at Cardiff University, and the Rural Sociology Group of the University of Wageningen.

I currently work as Research Director and full Professor Socio-Spatial planning at the Faculty of Spatial Sciences of the University of Groningen. I also manage the Expertise team 'Engaged Society' within the Department of Spatial Planning, and the Environment supervise PhD researchers, supervise bachelor and master students' theses and teach master students within the master Society, Sustainability and Planning. My research currently focuses on 'transformative collective citizen initiatives and community responses to climate change' in the Netherlands and Europe. My work centres around sustainable place-based development and the 'human factor' in place-shaping, addressing questions such as how and why collective civic initiatives and communities contribute to spatial transformation, sustainability and a more favourable institutional setting. Relevant research topics are: civic engagement, leadership, energy transition, sustainability, resourceful communities, place-based development, self-governance, values and coalitions.

I participated in the (UN) international Climate Week in Groningen and co-authored the recent plan for the Climate Adaptation Platform in the Northern Netherlands (CAP). I am member of the Scientific Board of the RUG School Sustainable Society and the School on Energy and Climate. Currently I am member of the national Platform 'Collectieve Kracht' and active within the Research Committee of the international Regional Studies Association (RSA). I was one of the initiators of the RSA Research Network 'The Place of Leadership in Urban and Regional Development' and I have been an editorial board member of the journal 'Sustainability Science'. I was involved in the European COST Action IS1007 on cultural sustainability. I participated in conferences of various research networks, for example RSA, ESRS, AESOP and Transformations to Sustainability.

I was involved in several EU projects: DERREG, EUWeiNet and GLAMUR, the INTERREG IVB project on 'Rural Alliances', and the INTERREG IIIB project 'LIFESCAPE-YOUR LANDSCAPE'. I co-coordinated the Marie Curie ITN program SUSPLACE, and was co-initiator/author and partner of the Marie Curie ITN program RECOMS on resourceful communities. Both Marie Curie ITN programs hosted 15 Early-Stage Researchers and led to a variety of outputs, e.g.: training, books on co-creative methods, a MOOC on careful scholarship and policy briefs. I have edited several books, on Passion (2009), Vital Coalitions (2010), Leadership (2012), and the role of Culture in Regional Development (2015), (co)authored many peer-reviewed scientific articles and book chapters, and am reviewer of articles in various journals.

Teaching tasks (Courses at RUG since 2016)

- Engaging society in Spatial Transformation
- Living Lab Sustainable Places
- Interdisciplinary perspectives to Sustainability (with the Psychology department)
- Ground breaking Ideas
- Introduction Academic Research
- Methods for Academic Research
- Bachelor thesis project
- Master thesis

Summer Schools and PhD training

- Visiting lecturing during the ICRPS Summer school, August 2011, Sogndal, Norway.
- Lecturer PhD course on place-based approaches in regional development. Drongen, Belgium, 2014.
- Lecturer PhD training week on Spatial thinking in Social Sciences, Wageningen University and Research centre, 2015.
- Co-ordination/organisation of training events every half year during the EU programs RECOMS and SUSPLACE.
- Coordination and lecturer SUSPLACE AUTUMN SCHOOL 2017 - 'Shaping Places, Crossing Disciplinary Boundaries', Aveiro, Portugal, 2017.
- Workshop for PhDs during the Summer School of the Dresden Leibniz Graduate School on 'The role of PhD researchers in places: careful, engaged and (co)creative scholarship in sustainability research', 21-9-2022.
- Lecturer Autumn School, Global Center of Adaptation, October 2023.

PhD supervision

I currently supervise 5 PhDs. I have supervised 10 PhDs as promotor or as (co-)supervisor in the past, most of them in a position as Early Stage Researchers (ESR) within the SUSPLAC and RECOMS program. These programs prepare ESR for an academic- as well as non-academic career. 7 PhDs finalized their thesis in Groningen or at other universities in the Netherlands and abroad so far, while two PhDs decided to pursue a non-academic career, one of them is now working at the World Economic Forum, while another works at a private firm. Two new PhD students will start in January 2024.

Membership Research networks

- Stakeholder group INTERREG project Delta Lady, initiated by the province of Friesland.
- Sustainable Change Research Network (SUCH), initiated in Finland, from 2019 onwards.
- RUG Network 'Sustainable Landscapes', since 2020
- Climate Adaptation Platform Northern Netherlands
- Research Committee of the Regional Studies Association, 2013-now. This includes the annual evaluation of around 50 proposals per year for the following grant schemes: Early-Stage Researchers, Members, Fellows and Research Networks
- EU Cost Action 'Investigating Cultural Sustainability' 2012-2015. Meetings in Tallinn (Estonia) in November 2012, Coimbra (Portugal) 14-16 May 2012, Rome 8-10 April 2013, Skopje in September 2-4 2013; Bo in Norway in 14-16 May, 2014, Stuttgart in Germany 3-5 December 2014, Helsinki in Finland 6-8 May 2015. Member of the scientific Committee of the conference 'Sense of Place', Cost Meeting in Rome, 2013. In Helsinki I gave a plenary presentation and conveyed a session on Values in Place with 15 presentations. I edited a book together with Prof. J. Dessein and Dr. E. Battaglini. Activities and reports: see <http://www.culturalsustainability.eu/workshops>.
- Policy and Advisory Panel of the INTERREG project Rural alliances, 2012-2015. The Rural Alliances Project brought together 12 partners from North West Europe to tackle the challenges of demographic change in rural areas. The project published fact sheets, policy papers, tools, guide books, an overview of alliances and videos. See: <http://www.rural-alliances.eu/>

Reviewed articles, editorial boards, special issues

I have reviewed articles for the following journals: Agriculture and Human Values, European Planning Studies, Environmental Policy and Planning, Regional Studies, Journal of Rural Studies, Rural Studies, Sociologia Ruralis, Land Use Planning, Land, Symbolic Interaction, Place Branding and Public Diplomacy, Sustainability. I was member of the editorial board of the journal Sustainability and Sustainability Science.

Guest-editor: Special issue of Sustainability Science on: “Exploring the transformative capacity of place-shaping practices” (2019-2020)

Grants and proposals:

PhD grant Ubbo Emmius Fund (M20) at the University of Groningen (290.000 euro). Together with colleagues/PhDs from other departments I submitted 4 interdisciplinary PhD proposals, of which 3 were nominated for the 2nd round. The following proposal was awarded with a scholarship: ‘Climate Advocates: Taking the lead in Community Action for Climate Adaptation in the Northern Netherlands’. This project is a collaboration between Spatial sciences and Psychology. Supervisors: Ina Horlings, Margot vd Brink, Anne Valkengoed, Lise Jans.

Travel grant (2022)

To fund a research sabbatical: 8.000 euro, 2022.

Project Floating Futures (2023), NWO

Role: Ina Horlings contributed to the text of revised proposal and is researcher in WP1 on governance and societal acceptance.

The Dutch Research Council (NWO) has awarded €5.3 million to the Floating Future research programme. This programme investigates from governance, technology and ecology how the Netherlands can build floating structures on a large scale and how this can be done in a socially acceptable way. The Faculty of Spatial Sciences is part of the consortium of Floating Future. Dr. Margo van den Brink, prof. Ina Horlings, prof. Jos Arts and dr. Britta Restemeyer are involved in the project

Marie Curie ITN RECOMS (2017-2022)

Budget: 3,89 million euro. Evaluation: Role: I was co-writer of the proposal and main partner. Groningen University is beneficiary and hosts 3 PhD's. Lead partner: Coventry University. Grant Agreement Number: 765389.

Title: Building Resourceful and Resilient Communities through Adaptive and Transformative Environmental Practice (RECOMS). The consortium consisted of 6 academic and 5 non-academic partners from 6 countries: UK, The Netherlands, Germany, Austria, Finland and Belgium.

Marie Curie ITN SUSPLACE (2015-2020).

Budget: 3.8 million euro. Evaluation: 97 out of 100 points. Role: applicant and coordinator.

Title: Sustainable place-shaping (SUSPLACE). Marie Curie ITN Action. Grant Agreement number: 674962. The consortium consisted of 6 academic and 7 non-academic partners from 7 countries: Latvia, Lithuania, Wales, Portugal, Finland, Belgium, The Netherlands.

Seed grant ISSC call Transformations to sustainability (Sept. 2014).

Budget: 25.501 Euro; 38 teams were awarded out of almost 500 applications.

Role: applicant and coordinator

Title: TRANSPLACE; connecting people to place. Partners: university of Vicosa in Brazil, Rhodes university in Grahamstown in South-Africa.

Research networks of the Regional Studies Association: 2 research grants for 3 years.

Budget: 2011-2014: 3000 GBP for 3 years. 2015-2018: 10.000 GBP from Nov. 2015- Nov. 2018.

Title: Research network Urban and Regional leadership

Role: Co-applicant.

Goal: to organize events to exchange knowledge on leadership in urban and regional development.
